

The Syllabus of Pragmatics

Nury Supriyanti, MA
supriyanti_nury@uny.ac.id

1. Aims of the course

- To provide students with experiences, insight, knowledge on the study on language use
- To make students aware of the pragmatic aspect of language
- To provide students with skills, knowledge and experiences in analyzing language pragmatically

2. Course Organization

Number of Meetings	Topics	Activities
1	Orientation	Lecturing, discussion
2	Definition and Background	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
3	Definition and background	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
4	Reference and inference	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
5	Presupposition and entailment	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
6	Cooperation and implicature	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
7	Cooperation and implicature	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
8	Mid test
8	Speech acts and events	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
9	Speech acts and events	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
9	Politeness and interaction	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
10	Politeness and interaction	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
11	Conversation and preference structure	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
12	Discourse and culture	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
13	Discourse and culture	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
14	Doing pragmatic analysis	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
15	Doing pragmatic analysis	Lecturing, discussion, assignment
16	Doing pragmatic analysis	Lecturing, discussion, assignment

3. Evaluation

- Students' attendance
- class participation
- assignments
- Midtest

- Final Test
4. Main literature : Yule, Mey, Leech